

North Hampshire Orchid Society

NEWSLETTER JULY 2014

We did not have a meeting in June as it was Fathers Day and the Malvern Show was on that weekend as well.

On July 20th Trey Sanders came to our meeting to talk about Dendrochilums which he has quite a few of. I think everyone enjoyed his talk although there were quite a few facts to take in at times. I have a few plants so I did note a few tips on how to look after them. It was good to have a speaker that we had not had before and who was very knowledgeable. He also had a variety of orchids for sale.

The competition table had some lovely orchids displayed. 1st. was Mike Sharman's Stanhopea wardii which had a strong fragrance, 2nd was Tricia's Dendrobium infundibulum which was unusual and 3rd was Steve Langston's Thunia marshallana. Photographs of the winning orchids follow.

Please note that there is no meeting in AUGUST. This is our usual holiday break.

Please come to our next meeting which is on 21st
September where Tricia and Lawrence will continue showing us photographs and telling stories of their interesting trip to Thailand.
